Listening and Learning to Facilitate Relationships for Student Success
Dr. Patrick K. Murphy

The new superintendent's entry plan offers a framework to facilitate Dr. Patrick K. Murphy's efforts to initiate honest and productive discussions with all levels of the Arlington Public Schools and the Arlington community. The plan provides a method to facilitate and articulate a comprehensive plan-of-action for Dr. Murphy from May to October 2009 and involves various constituencies within the APS and the Arlington community. The plan addresses several key elements that are embedded in the objectives and activities at each phase of the plan. These key elements are:

- Building collaborative and team-oriented relationships;
- Developing a more comprehensive understanding and knowledge about the people, community, and school division; and
- Creating an environment that moves the school community forward to address both short-term and long-range academic and operational goals.

The foundation that guides the activities in each phase of this entry plan are the Arlington Public Schools 2009-11 Strategic Plan and its four goals of:

- Raising Student Achievement,
- Eliminating the Gap in Achievement,
- Providing a Responsive Education, and
- Building Effective Relationships.

The entry plan is divided into three two-month phases: Pre-entry, Entry, and Post-entry. The plan focuses on five themes - Vision, Communication, Achievement, Strategies, and Future - to organize activities, gain knowledge and information, and ultimately, to create a picture of the current and future state of the school division. These themes provide a lens for the Superintendent, School Board and staff to:

- Think about our future and the aspirations we have for students,
- Examine our students' academic accomplishments; and
- Provide an opportunity and forum for us to sharpen the focus of our commitment to ensure the success of all students.

The entry plan activities have been designed to provide opportunities to collect information through a variety of approaches including interviews, group meetings, and a review of documents and formal research will provide a more comprehensive picture of the organization. The conclusions of the first two two-month phases coincide with the ending of the current school year and the start of the new school year respectively. A report at the end of the first six months will precede the development of the Superintendent's FY 11 Budget, and will also aid in crafting a community process for building the 2011-17 Strategic Plan.

This entry plan has been developed to provide the necessary investment of time and resources to:
